Alma Mater

In New England stands a college
Near blue Quincy Bay,
ENC, our Alma Mater
Glorious for aye.
Laud her merits, Sing her praises,
Let our song ring free
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
Hail, O ENC.

Graceful branches lifted heavenward,
Suncrowned for our view,
Stand the elms upon our campus,
Reaching to the blue,
Shady walks beneath the foliage,
Flow'ring beauty rare;
Blessed by nature, how we love thee,
Alma Mater, Fair.

Clear her vision, high her purpose,
Lo, she stands serene;
And her faith is sure, undaunted,
Eastern Nazarene.
We will prove our strong devotion,
Loyal we will be;
True to God and Alma Mater,
True to ENC.

Just Like You Promised

Lord, I entrust my life into Your hands,
Sure that You have a perfect plan.
For You have promised Your child a lot,
Even though I groaned and fought.
You promise to be with me in all that I do.
You promise to love me through and through.
You say if I seek I will find,
You and Your love so divine.
My prayers You answer, giving me security and peace.
The promise of abundant life is mine to always keep.
Help You will bring me when I call,
I know You will be faithful through it all.
You promise to give me the desires of my heart,
If I will only trust, obey and do my part.
You said if I give myself to You,
You will start my life anew.
For You are the King of the heavens and the earth,
Nothing can compare to Your matchless worth.
So why do I struggle in the truth of You,
When Your plan is not what I want to do?
Help me to see the perfection of You,
To forget my own ways and have that's true.
For in Your love I shall rest,
Because I know You will do "Just Like You Promised."

As Eastern Nazarene College celebrates its Centennial with the Inherited Promise, the Unfolding Promise, and the Future Promise, we celebrate the promises which God has given to each and everyone of us.

For some students this year marks the beginning of life at ENC, for others the end. Whether you are staying at ENC or leaving doesn't matter. What does matter is what is in our hearts. We need to trust God and have faith in His perfect plan. No matter where God leads us, we have to remember that we are all in God's hands and He has promised to take care of us, but first we have to let Him.

The theme for this year's Nautilus focuses on the fulfillment of God's promises. Whether you are having a good day or the worst day of your life, remember His promises: He will never let you go, He will never give up on you, and He will always take care of you.

God has promised to love us unconditionally, and it is this perfect love which fills us with His peace. It doesn't matter how far we stray from God because He has promised that He will be there no matter what happens.

God has made countless promises to all of His children and has been faithful in keeping every single one. As others have said, God has never broken a promise and He isn't going to start with you. So no matter where your life takes you, remember to have faith in God, and trust Him and His perfect plan. Most importantly, cling to God's many promises.

In Him,

In Dedication to and in Honor of Dr. Daniel Shea

The 2001 Nautilus is dedicated to Dr. Daniel Shea whose service and dedication to Eastern Nazarene College and his students over the years has not gone unnoticed. Dr. Shea is an example to us all not only as a professor, but also as a man of faith. His example of trusting in God's promises is one which we can all learn from. It is with honor that the 2001 yearbook is dedicated to Dr. Daniel Shea for his commitment to God and the community of Eastern Nazarene College. Thank you Dr. Shea for all you do!

"It was He who gave some to be apostles, some to be evangelists, and some to be pastors and teachers." (Ephesians 4:11) ENC is blessed with a faculty sent out in service for the Kingdom. They guide us in our academic careers and serve as mentors in our faith journeys. Their work in the classroom and on this campus is the lifeblood of our Godly institution.

Dr. Daniel Shea is one of the faculty members who brings this vitality to ENC everyday. His quiet leadership and skillful scholarship strengthens both the college and his students. His reflection of Christ's love makes him a teacher sent out in service for the Kingdom. It is a noble endeavor to guide a student on the path of scholarship, and a Godly service to model the love of Christ. Dr. Shea embodies, as Dean Munro noted, that there truly is no conflict "between the best in education and the best in the Christian faith." He, like so many faculty at ENC, joins the two by working as a teacher of curriculum and Christ. Thank you Dr. Shea for your continuing service to the Kingdom.

~Justin Galusha

Dan Shea graduates from ENC in 1973.

When I think of Dr. Shea, I think of love, kindness, patience, and devotion. He is one of the most remarkable people that I have ever met. It has been my pleasure to get to know him as a professor, as an advisor to the Executive Student Government, and as a friend.

The first time I encountered Dr. Shea was in EMES, one of the finer courses offered here at ENC. I'll never forget the smile that he always seemed to have on his face. Dr. Shea is a very soft-spoken man, but his words are extremely meaningful. He shows genuine love for teaching and for his students.

I, like many others, am truly a different person because of this man. His humbleness and patience are unlike anyone that I know. Dr. Shea displays a sincere devotion to his work here at ENC and to the Lord. He stands out among us because he is a man that freely gives but asks nothing in return.

God IS good Dr. Shea. Thank you for being an example of His peace in our lives.

~Tim Johnson

Dan Shea as part of the ENC faculty in 1988.

When I heard that Dr. Dan Shea was going to be honored this year in the Nautilus, and the staff asked me to write down a few thoughts about how he had impacted my life here at ENC, I immediately thought it was a great idea and many good memories quickly came to mind.

Throughout my four years as a biology major I have come to know Dr. Shea very well. He was my professor for numerous classes and my 'boss' during my employment in the science department. Most importantly, I looked up to him as a mentor spiritually, as he walked me through some of the more controversial issues in biology that had the potential to disrupt my faith.

I remember coming to ENC my freshmen year not knowing what to expect and fearing that I had chosen the wrong major. Dr. Shea was the first college professor I encountered and he started class in the strangest way, he began with a devotional! My fears were quickly dissipated, and over the last few years Dr. Shea has become a very good friend. I am sure that any other biology major would feel the same way. I have often been in a conversation with a peer when they have spoken of how much they missed having a class with him.

I am constantly amazed at Dr. Shea's integrity and perseverance in all that he does and his ability to always do it with a smile on his face.

The senior class will miss you Dr. Shea, and our prayers are with you!

Intimate Closeness

You promise, dear God

That when I draw close to You

You will draw close to me.

Lord, I give myself to You unreservedly.

Teach me more and more

Of intimate closeness

And fill my heart with You alone.

To walk arm-in-arm with You

Down every winding path

Seems to me

The dearest of all delights.

Pentecostal Collegiate Institute and Bible Training School, Saratoga Springs, NY.

Eastern Nazarene College began as the Pentecostal Collegiate Institute and Bible Training School on September 25, 1900. PCI opened at the Garden View House in Saratoga Springs, NY.

Pentecostal Collegiate Institute and Bible Training School.

The next year PCI moved to the former Kenmore Hotel in Saratoga Springs, NY.

In 1902, PCI reorganized and moved to the former Lapham Institute facility in North Scituate, RI.

The Association of Pentecostal Churches of America (parent sponsor of PCI) united with the Church of the Nazarene in 1907.

In 1909, Principal Angell established a broom factory to help students pay for education.

The Pentecostal Trade School was incorporated as an arm of PCI in 1910.

ENC was chartered in Rhode Island as Eastern Nazarene College in 1918 and PCI's principal, J. E. L. Moore became ENC's first president.

In 1919, ENC moved to the former Quincy Mansion School facility in Wollaston, MA, where Fred Shields was elected the second college president. Other campus buildings included the Manchester (a resident hall), Canterbury, and the "Cardboard Palace" (a dining hall for one year and then a resident hall).

The Manchester & Canterbury buildings are part of the new home of ENC.

In 1926, Munro Hall, named after Dean Bertha Munro, was built for women's housing. An addition to Munro Hall was added in 1946 due to the increasing need for women's housing. The addition included a new wing, a parlor, and a dining hall in the basement.

In 1928, a gymnorium was built replacing the gym facility located in the basement of Canterbury from 1919-1928. The project was funded through student fundraisers. In 1944, the college began using the gymnorium not only for sporting events, but also for chapel services and Sunday worship.

ENC was awarded degree granting authority in 1930 by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. In that same year, Fowler Memorial (later renamed Gardner) was built. Fowler Memorial was named in honor of the president of the National Holiness Association with the promise to financially support the college, however this money was never received and the building was renamed Gardner after the fourth ENC president, R. Wayne Gardner who was elected in 1930.

In 1948, Memorial Hall was built and named in honor of those who served in WW2. In order to make room for Memorial Hall the "Cardboard Palace" was demolished. The construction of Memorial Hall brought not only a new men's dormitory, but a new Dugout, a college bookstore, a game room, and a men's prayer room (containing a book with the names of Nazarene men and women who served in the war) constructed in the basement. In that same year, Edward S. Mann was elected the seventh president.

Special thanks to Dr. James Cameron, ENC Historian, for contributing to this special section commemorating ENC's 100 years!

Dr. Kent R. Hill, President

Dear Graduate,

The theme of the Nautilus this year is: "Just Like You Promised." Human beings are fragile in many ways. We depend on each other. We depend on God. Integrity matters. Keeping promises matters. Ultimately, it comes down to a question of "trust." Can we trust each other? More importantly, can we "trust" God, or perhaps more accurately, can we "entrust ourselves" to His will and care?

During your senior year, in the fall, I had the rare treat one noon to have lunch with one of you at the Japanese restaurant on Hancock Street across from Dunkin Donuts.

The conversation was memorable because we talked about things which mattered - the problems of evil, faith and doubt, and God and His human creation. There were no easy answers. In the course of our time together, however, it occurred to me quite clearly, and I shared it with my friend, that in the final analysis, conversion is not fundamentally about affirming Orthodox Christian tenets, as important as those are. It is ultimately about "trust" - about yielding to a stubborn, compelling nudging of the Spirit to believe that the Creator of the Universe really is well disposed towards us and towards His Creation. He actually loves us. He really does.

That is really what it is all about. We won't ever have all the answers, though we are expected to ever strive for clarity and substance. But, later in your life, when you are buffeted by the storms and tragedies which inevitably come to us all, you may actually be even less sure of some of your cherished beliefs than you are right now. But that is OK, so long as you continue to believe ever more strongly that which is really central to our faith, namely, that we can trust our ultimate destiny, both in this life and beyond, to the One who created us.

If I might be so bold as to share one bit of advice with you as you move on to your post-ENC years (yes, there is life after ENC!), it would be this. Quietly, and without desperation, trust your life and all that comes with it to Him who made you. Do your part, discern and follow truth as best you can, but when the night is dark and when the way ahead unclear and unsure, "trust" the One who made you. Trust the One who sustains you now, and the One who will take you home one day.

I know of no better expression of what this trust means than verse written in 1833 by John Henry Newman of England. His poem has come down to us as "Lead, Kindly Light." I leave it with you for that moment in the future when you feel alone and in despair, and I give it to you with my warmest, best wishes for a future filled with God's quiet and sustaining grace. May you never forget that there truly is "light" ahead for you, and it is a "kindly light."

Sincerely,

Kent R Hill

Kent R. Hill
President

Lead, Kindly Light

Lead, Kindly Light,

Amidst the encircling gloom,

Lead Thou me on.

The night is dark,

And I am far from home,

Lead Thou me on.

Keep Thou my feet,

I do not ask to see the distant scene,

One step enough for me.

I was not ever such,

Nor prayed that Thou should'st lead me on,

But now, Lead Thou me on.

I loved the garish day, and spite of fears

Pride ruled my will

Remember not past years.

So long Thy power has blessed me

Sure, it still will lead me on.

Or'e moor and fen, or'e craig and torrent

Until the night is gone

And with the morn

Those angel faces smile

That I have loved long since and lost awhile.

~John Henry Newman

Fulfilling the Promise

Senior Class Council: Faithe Rotz (Administrative Assistant), Mary Teresa Damata (President), Steve Wolf (Advisor), Andrea Long (Chaplain), Chrissy Tsepas (Social Life), Lauren Livziey (Vice President)

The Class of 2001 has come a long way since our freshmen year. Most of us stepped onto this campus as intimidated, naive, and directionless freshmen. Through our four years here we have grown spiritually and emotionally, found callings for ourselves, and matured. . .well, at least most of us have! We've met new friends and we've said good-bye to old ones. We've had our highs and lows, our late nights and early mornings, our trials and triumphs. However, we always seemed to come out on top. If one thing can be said to sum up the Class of 2001, it would be that we have persevered; we take the negative and with God's grace and boundless love we make it the best it can possibly be.

We will all leave this year with different memories, but every memory will be unforgettable. We have finished four of the most important years of our lives. The future is unknown, but if the past is any indication of what the future holds, we're in for quite a ride!

On a more personal note, I would like to thank everyone who has served our class on council these last four years. I consider it a privilege to have worked with all of you over the years. Your hard work and dedication will never be forgotten.

God bless the Class of 2001. We will all hold special places in each others' hearts.

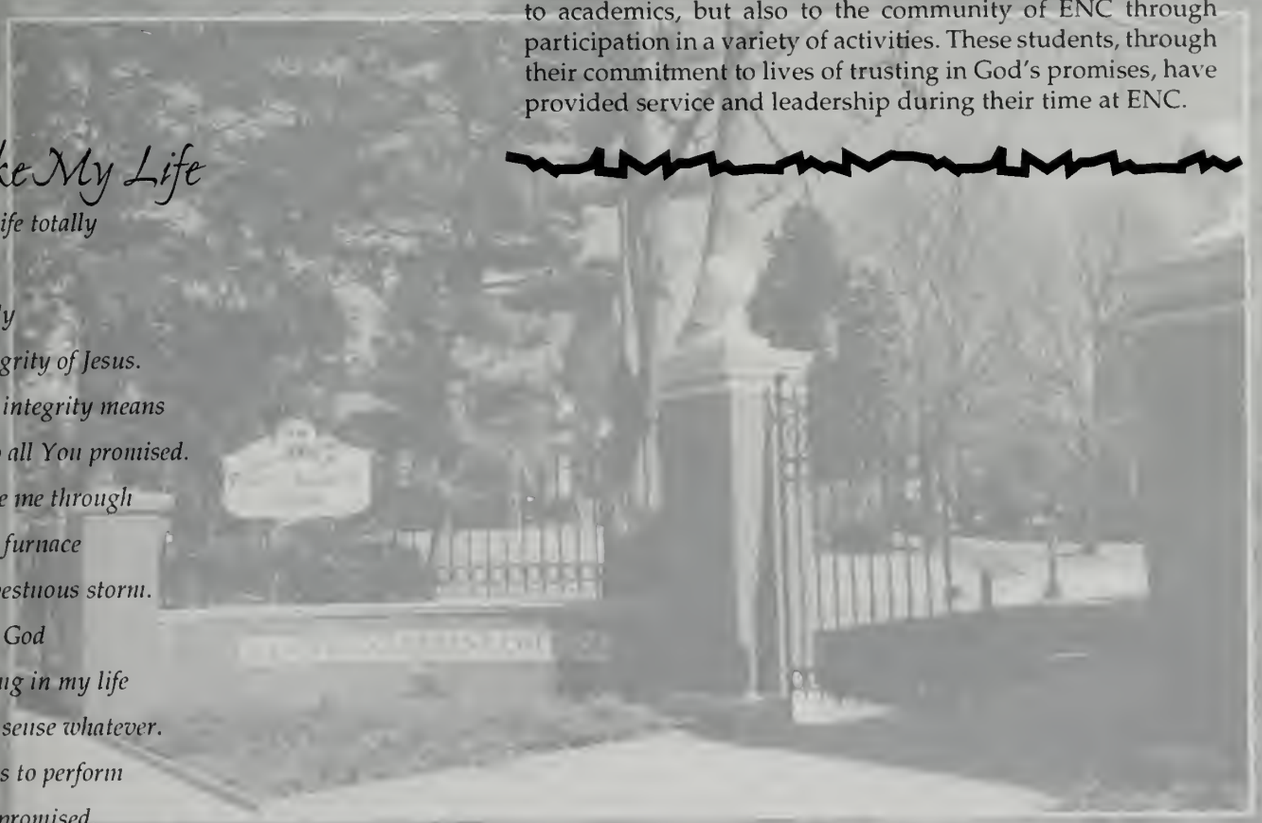
Who's Who

Trusting the Promise

Twenty seniors were selected to Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities based on their commitment not only to academics, but also to the community of ENC through participation in a variety of activities. These students, through their commitment to lives of trusting in God's promises, have provided service and leadership during their time at ENC.



I Stake My Life

I stake my life totally Completely
Permanently
On the integrity of Jesus.
Lord, Your integrity means
You will do all You promised.
You will see me through
Every fiery furnace
Every tempestuous storm.
If not, dear God
Then nothing in my life
Makes any sense whatever.
Your part is to perform
What You promised.
My part is to trust and obey.

I think that I am a person who does not dwell on the past, but looks toward the future. However, i be hard to forget the late night "study" sessions at Dunkies, the "Goonies" and our almost wins, an late nights on 2nd Willy. Every moment, good and bad, I will cherish as learning experiences. E person who has stepped into my life, however briefly, has in some way shaped who I am. Yet, I do to leave to form new philosophies, new friendships, and new memories, but I look forwar anticipation and hope. I am truly thankful for my family for backing me up 100 percent, and who continue to do so as God leads me onward. I thank God for the past four years at ENC and I will trust with my future.

Andrew Blish

I am so thankful to God for His blessings over the past four years. What an incredible impact ENC has made on my life as I have grown and gained new perspective in so many areas. The friendships and memories that I have been graced with have left little to regret. So much comes to mind when I think of what an example so many have been of lives dedicated, hardships overcome, and challenges met. These things will not be easily forgotten. Thanks is really not enough for the kindness I have been shown through genuine people. You are truly in my prayers.

"To be certain of God means that we are uncertain in all our ways, we do not know what a day may bring forth. This is generally said with a sigh of sadness, it should be rather an expression of breathless expectation. We are uncertain of the next stop, but we are certain of God. Immediately we abandon God. . . He packs our life with new surprises all the time." ~Oswald Chambers

People always say that college was the best time of their life. What they should say is: enjoy it while it because before you know it, you'll turn around and it will be two weeks before graduation, and y wonder where the years went. Sometimes I wish I could stay in school forever. There aren't n opportunities in life to see your friends everyday, stay up late in the night talking, or walk aiml around Boston. But then I wake up and realize that I am ready to leave the world of communal bathro shower shoes, and all-night cram sessions. I am thankful to my parents for paying for it, to the fri I made who tried to keep me sane, and the wonderful professors who I will greatly miss. I leave this with an excellent education and wonderful friends - two gifts that I know will last longer than four s years. To everyone, (you know who you are) I love you all! Thank You!

Rebecca R. DiSante

The Lord once told me that He wouldn't put more on me than I can bear and if it's there it means that I can bear it. So, I have held onto that promise all four years at ENC. It's hard to leave home at sixteen not knowing what to do or how things will end up. However, on my journey, I realized that it was through the "tough" times that God showed His love to me. And so I thank Him for that. He showed me that I can! Whatever I am faced with, I can handle. Whatever I am feeling, I can cope. Whatever I fear, I can conquer, as long as I believe in myself as much as God believes in me.

Becky Galbraith

ny time at ENC comes to a close, I look back over my four years here and I can only smile. God has sed me in so many ways and I have learned so much about Him, myself and others. There have been and downs (and everything in between), but each experience has helped mold me into the person now as I leave this wonderful place. I am so thankful for all the people God has used to help me grow:

- Carl Winderl - Thanks for teaching me so much, both in and out of the classroom.
- Mike Schutz - Thanks for being someone I can look up to.
- Andrea, Brian, David, Yami, Lindi, Mike, and Jon - Thanks for being a part of my most memorable moments at ENC.
- MT and Jay - Thanks for everything - you guys are two of God's biggest blessings in my life.
- To my family - Thanks for all you love and support over the years.

ough I am sad that this chapter in my life must come to an end, I am excited about what God has ned for my future. I will always be thankful for my time at ENC, and most importantly, for what my here has taught me.

Justin Galusha

"Clear her vision, high her purpose, lo she stands serene, and her faith is sure undaunted, Eas Nazarene." These words of our Alma Mater strike a poignant harmony with my experiences at this G institution. ENC's undaunted faith in the best in Christian education has changed me. College here been a time of significant academic, spiritual and personal growth. I owe that to the ENC Commu to the professors, administrators and friends that have given part of themselves to help me. Collecti those persons have taught me countless lessons, but most importantly, they have taught me to lifelong learner; to seek always to learn in both my academic pursuits and in my faith journey.

I cannot express, in such a brief space, all that ENC has and will mean to me. So I will simply and since thank ENC and the people that make up this incredible integration in the best of scholarship Christian faith.

Benjamin George

Life's a journey - a race, as Paul puts it. My goal is to simply run the course that has been set out for me to the best of my ability. My college experience was only one lap of the trip which has been filled with many ups and downs. I only want to make the most out of the opportunities and talents that I have been blessed with. My time at ENC has been very profitable and memorable. Playing college basketball, traveling with Athletes in Action to the Philippines, learning valuable business knowledge, and getting married - what else could you ask for? I am very thankful for each and every experience I have had in the past four years.

Jamie S. Jackson

One of the lessons I have learned, and am still learning, is that God knows what He is doing, even i cannot begin to comprehend His reasoning. My mind is flooded with memories of positive experie and challenges that have made me into the person I am today. Probably the most challenging, opening, and life changing experience was my time spent in Romania where Jesus truly met me in "distressing disguise" as Mother Teresa says. Though I am the one graduating, credit does not belo me alone; it also belongs to God, my parents, family, friends, and professors who encouraged me supported me. I am forever in their debt. I am not sure what else God has in store for me - the prospects are rather daunting - but I am confident that He knows what He is doing, everything I d and will enable me to accomplish His work.

"Faith is daring the soul to go beyond what the eyes can see." These past four years, this has been the theme I have lived on. Coming into college, I thought I had my major figured out, and thought I knew what the rest of my life would hold. God had different plans, and I have walked by faith to follow Him. Four years later, I have been able to see and experience so much by trusting God completely. I have learned that if we take God's hand and solely rest on the idea that He knows the plans He has for us, we will be taken to unbelievable heights. I thank Him for my incredible family that continues to set examples of leadership and integrity, a strong group of friends who will last a lifetime, and a most amazing man of God, He has brought me to, who I will marry this summer. I thank Him for incredible opportunities such as going to Australia for missions, and even playing on a varsity college level volleyball team. All this and more has shown me that through God we can do anything. "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me." ~Philippians 4:13

,864,000. The number of friends I've made at ENC? No. The number of CLS credits I've earned? rdly. The number of times I've wondered what I'll be when I grow up? Not yet. This number represents w many seconds I've spent on the campus of ENC, give or take a few thousand or so. During these ,864,000 seconds, I estimate I've been late to class about 784 times, attended chapel 208 times, and en about 3,698 meals in the cafeteria (for better or worse). Despite the accuracy of these numbers, wever, you cannot make me into a statistic. I am a real, living, breathing person and a product of my ily, my friends, and my education. You have all had a say in who Chris Moesel is, and who he will on to be. I have had the same opportunity to shape you. Let's pray that we have used these chances sely. Trading smiles is a good hobby; I've collected 2,325 just this year. I'm hoping to collect the whole . . . Oh, and better make that first number 108,865,200.

Well, my college journey has been anything but ordinary. ENC is my third and final destination, am so glad that God placed me here. In my four years here at ENC, I have been privileged to have participated in a wide variety of activities. In these activities I have gained many valuable friendships. It has been through these friendships and experiences that I will most remember my time here.

As a Shrader-Rat, I have spent many long hours wandering the ground floor. . . often working and more often playing with Banditt or searching hopelessly for the elusive Dr. Free.

Some of my fondest memories have included the J-term Robot Contests and scaring the freshmen when capacitors "accidently" explode. But I definitely can't forget watching Andy Gregorowicz accidently electrocute his foot with lightening bolts from the VanderGraaf.

What I will miss most will be all of the late night "study" sessions where we would all just end up talking for hours.

Nathan Sawtelle

As I think about my time here at ENC, going back to my first night as a freshman soccer player t nights that are now winding down my college career, I can say nothing less than this: Eastern Naza College has been the perfect place for me these past four years. There have been good times and there been bad times, I have made good decisions and bad decisions, but when all is said and done, I w not be the person that I am today without having had the opportunities to get involved in campu and the impact of my professors who have invested their time and energy with me. I want to than parents and my brother and sister for all that they have helped me with - thanks mom and dad! Fi I thank God, He has been very patient with me these past four years as I have found that with personal relationship with Him, life is meaningless.

"The Lord is my light and my salvation, whom shall I fear? The Lord is the stronghold of my life, of w shall I be afraid?" ~Psalm 27:1

Jenny Selvidge

'rust God from the bottom of your heart. Don't try to figure out everything on your own. Listen for God's voice in everything you do, everywhere you go. He's the one who will keep you on track." -roverbs 3:5-6, The Message

ese four years have definitely taught me that as hard as I try I cannot figure everything out on my own. a freshman, three colleges ago, I would have never imagined that I would be graduating from ENC. t it has been an incredible journey; the Lord has proven faithful in each step. What I had imagined for r four years could not have compared to the places I've been, the people I've met, and the lessons I've rned. And because of His faithfulness, I can leave this place in confidence... if I only listen for His voice.

Jeffrey D. Silva

It has been a great experience coming to ENC. I wasn't sure exactly what to expect, but after four years here I have come to realize what an awesome opportunity I've had. I've grown academically, of course, but also spiritually; my classes have challenged me to think about things as I never have before. When I started here as a freshman, I was sure of what I was going to do with the rest of my life, but I have realized in a very powerful way that our ways are not always God's ways and that God has great plans in store for each of His followers. I don't know what the future holds for me, I only know that I must trust God and follow His leading. "'For I know the plans I have for you, declares the Lord, 'plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you a hope and a future.'" ~Jeremiah 29:11

There are many people I would like to thank. Most importantly, I would like to thank God, because without His love and grace my life would be meaningless and I would not have been able to accomplish anything. I would also like to thank my family for their love and support through the years. Finally, I would like to thank my professors who not only taught me so much academically, but also taught me how to think about and understand my faith.

Kimberly Ann Tharp

feels like yesterday that my parents were helping me move into my room on 1st Willy, and now in a v short weeks after four years I'll be moving out of my little home up in Munro. I thank you so much for that!

s this final month draws to a close, I find myself battling with the heartache of leaving my home of the st four years. This place is a haven of some of the sweetest moments of my life and I cling to the last of em. As I look forward to the future that God has for me, I will always remember how He paved the thway of my life here at Eastern Nazarene College, and know that I will never be the same because it.

Everyone always says that college is one of the best times of your life. I have found that to be true four years here at ENC. While I have certainly learned about academics, more importantly, I have le about life and how important people really are. I have appreciated the love and support of my fa Although they were miles away, they were never too far to offer an encouraging word and tell m proud they were of me. Thank you Daddy and Mom for always being there for me. I feel espe blessed to have shared time in college with each of my sisters. Thank you Sara and Judy for all tha do and for always cheering me up; you both mean so much to me. Friendships have also been important during my time at college. Thank you Natalie, Ann, Heather, Gwenne, and Erin - I'll forget the fun times we shared. Thank you to my professors in the business department for being me who made themselves available to me. I will always appreciate how you have prepared me for the f Dr. Shetler, it has been a privilege to have worked with you and to have been a part of the A Ca Choir. Thank you for giving me that opportunity and for pushing me to excel in music.

Most of all, I want to thank the most important person in my life, Jeff. Thank you Jeff for loving m for choosing to spend the rest of your life with me. You have made college that much sweeter and I know how I could have done everything and gotten through everything without you. I love you so and I look forward to my future with you.

Christine M. White

My time at Eastern Nazarene College has been the most challenging of my life. As an older student, I had the advantage of years of life experience that kept me ever aware of the fact that going to college is a privilege. Every day, even the bad ones, I tried to remember to thank God that He gave me the opportunity to be here. I'm not sure that if I went directly out of high school that I would have appreciated the college experience as much.

The downside to attending later in life is the added responsibilities of children and home. But the wonderful sense of accomplishment I feel, along with the exhilaration of learning and growing has made any difficulties I've endured well worth it. For the first time in my life, I know that I can utilize my talents and abilities and be justly compensated. I feel equipped to meet new challenges, live up to my potential, and to set even higher goals.

I hope that in my college years here, I've provided a positive role model for my son, and that he will attend Eastern Nazarene College not many years from now. I've met many caring, supportive people who have helped me along the way, and to them I am forever grateful. Eastern Nazarene College has changed my life.

"Your hands made me and formed me; give me understanding to learn Your commands. May those who fear You rejoice when they see me, for I have put my hope in Your word. I know, O Lord, that Your laws are righteous, and in faithfulness You have afflicted me. May Your unfailing love be my comfort, according to Your promise to Your servant. Let Your compassion come to me that I may live, for Your law is my delight. May the arrogant be put to shame for wronging me without cause; but I will meditate on Your precepts. May those who fear You turn to me, those who understand Your statutes. May my heart be blameless toward Your decrees, that I may not be put to shame. My eyes fail, looking for Your promise; I say, "When will You comfort me?" Though I am like a wineskin in the smoke, I do not forget Your decrees. How long must Your servant wait? When will You punish my persecutors? The arrogant dig pitfalls for me, contrary to Your law. All Your commands are trustworthy; help me, for men persecute me without cause. They almost wiped me from the earth, but I have not forsaken Your precepts. Preserve my life according to Your love, and I will obey the statutes of Your mouth."

Accept - Expect

My Father
Empower me to accept
All You have promised
And to expect
Every promise fulfilled.
May I never forget
How completely I am in Your hands.

God's Promises

With increasing joy I am discovering that God's promises do not suddenly disappear when our courage fails and our fears become overwhelming. Feeling or no feeling, when God gives a promise that speaks directly to our need, it stands firm regardless of negative circumstances. There may be times of questioning, and we may not understand God's timing, but His promise remains certain through our deepest trial. If we consistently rely on His immutable Word, we can disregard the darkness.

Oswald Chambers says, "Are you in the dark right now regarding your circumstances? Then listen, and God will give you a very precious message for someone else when you are in the light."

God waits for us to trust Him when trusting seems the most difficult thing of all.

Day of Rejoicing

Lord, all day long
We've been laughing and singing.
We've been shouting and praising.
After weeks and months
Of waiting and pleading
You have wonderfully answered our prayers.
Our hearts are filled with unspeakable joy.
You promised that those
Who sow in tears
Shall reap in joy.
It is happening, dear Lord
To us. . . to us!

"Faith is daring the soul to go beyond what the eyes can see."

We began our endeavor as a council by committing to something that, as far as we could tell, we did not have the money for. We began on faith and faith alone. We planned for something that we could not see. We planned on faith and faith alone. We worked and strived to achieve a goal. We worked on faith and faith alone.

This year our class council was stretched and challenged in ways that we could not have imagined as we committed ourselves to the job of Junior Class Council. Despite those challenges we had some exciting and rewarding experiences such as breaking a world record, the success of the Jr./Sr. Banquet, and other various events. We are grateful for the opportunities to serve which God and our class have given us.

Sophomores

Another year of college is finished. This year has been a year of change. Things have gotten harder since our freshmen year; classes are a lot harder and schedules are more demanding. The thrill of being on our own has come and gone and more and more responsibility is setting in. Not only have class schedules changed, but so have friendships. New friendships have been formed and old friendships have become different in various ways. Even this class council went through changes this year.

But throughout all the changes, one thing has remained the same for each one of us - Jesus Christ, our Lord and Savior, has not changed. He is still the same loving God that He always has been. Throughout this year I have been reminded that although my attitude may change, He remains the same, and I can always rely on Him and put all my trust in Him. As we finish our college careers, remember this one thing - God never changes and He will never fail you. Trust in Him. Proverbs 3:5-6

Freshmen

Freshmen Class Council: Jason McPherson (President), Jan Burges (Chaplain), Jon Lanham (Vice President), Alayna Henck (Administrative Assistant), &John Cogan (Social Life).

Leaving the bed that you spent 18 years of your life sleeping comfortably and securely in...pulling out of the driveway with the car filled with everything from your clothes to your childhood teddy bear...in the car your mind starts reminiscing...after all...wasn't it just yesterday when you were crying in pure fear of your first day of preschool? Then, with the blink of an eye, you were standing on a platform receiving a high school diploma. It seems that just as quick as the days came, they were gone.

As you turned right on East Elm Ave, you saw the sign - "Eastern Nazarene College." You couldn't remember the last time you saw so many unfamiliar faces. Finding your room was not too difficult. With that, you unpacked and kissed goodbye the faces of your mother and father whom you had never been away from for more than a week. Your freshmen year had begun. . .

. . .And what a year it was! In one year of our lives, we were completely changed. We formed new relationships, grew spiritually, and met unexpected challenges. As we look back at the year, it should only be looked at as a springboard, knowing that sophomore year is just ahead. Let us press onward towards the goal to win the prize in Christ Jesus.

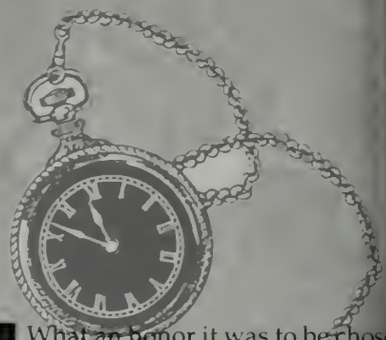
"As Time Goes By..."



"Unforgettable." Not only did that song take on a whole new meaning that night, but it also describes the most magical night of my life! Singing with my dad, watching former Homecoming Queens reclaim their honor, and being crowned the Millennium Homecoming Queen alongside my best friend, Andy, was amazing. Words cannot even begin to express the sincere gratitude I feel towards the student body for allowing me this incredible honor! This year has come and gone so quickly making many memories, but this one is the pinnacle of them all! Thank you so much for allowing me to serve and may God bless you as you continue to make your time here at ENC - unforgettable.

Stay in the Course,

All I Really Need to Know I Learned in Kindergarten

"I am not the light, but I can reflect the light into the dark places of the world." This was the message given through the fun and heartwarming scene vignettes of the popular adapted play, "All I Really Need to Know I Learned in Kindergarten," by Robert Fulgham. Directed by senior Nathaniel Scott, "Kindergarten" starred six actors who portrayed various characters, showing that sometimes it's the simplest rules that guide us through the difficult moments in life.

Our fears for today, our worries for tomorrow, and even the powers of hell can't keep God's love away. Whether we are high above the sky or in the deepest ocean, nothing in all creation will ever be able to separate us from the love of God that is revealed in Christ Jesus our Lord." ~Romans 8:38-39

This year Nautilus has strived to compile a yearbook which is a complete and accurate account of the year. Our goal has been to include as many people, events and groups as possible so that many details of this year may be remembered. Campus Camera

This year has been a positive year for growth for the newspaper. We have worked toward a stronger overall focus for the many issues we have printed. The newspaper must be viewed as the primary form of communication on campus before it can reach its ultimate height. Thus, the staff this year has kept ears open to the rumors and complaints so that we can tune into the stories people already want to read and dig in to find the truth. The newspaper should be a document for and representative of ENC's entire community. Voices from every angle should be heard, faces from every area should be seen, and all who achieve great things should be commended. With this in mind, this year's Campus Camera staff has had a positive and tight year.

AMS

The goal of AMS this year was to encourage community among the men of ENC so that they may foster close relationships with one another. During fall semester, we participated in the annual Street Fair during Homecoming weekend. We successfully raised funds to help with our semester event, a Monday Night Football Pizza Party. With the gathering of over 50 men, we sold pizza and soda, and gave away prizes at the end of each half. After that successful event, it was time to raise some more money. For the Christmas Bazaar, we sold candy-filled glass mugs, which sold in about three hours! During spring semester, we brought back MOP week and let the guys ask out the girls. Overall, we had a successful year. With our entire council being graduating seniors, we believe we did our best to reach our goal. We hope our presence as an organization was a positive one for the entire ENC community.

Social Life

Social Life is composed of two groups: the council and the committee. The Social Life Council consists of the Social Life Representatives from each class council. The Social Life Committee consists of students who are interested in helping out and getting involved with Social Life. Social Life meets once a week to plan events for the students. It is our mission to find exciting activities that are new and exciting that bring the student body together. We work hard to find events which will entertain a wide diversity of interests on campus. We hope to provide ways for you to have fun fellowshipping with friends. A good social life is essential, after all, these are some of the best and most important years of your life.

Election Board

Running the elections for the student body are Josh March, Brent Temple, Cara Drake, & Angela Busch.

The Election Board is responsible for all of the various SGA sponsored elections throughout the academic year. Largely, our moment comes with the advent of the Executive Council elections. However, the Election Board is also responsible for the other student elections, such as class council, AMS, AWS, and Homecoming. In addition to scheduling, the Board must coordinate these elections with SGA, oversee their implementation, and tabulate and report the results.

Student Ministries Leade

Paul writes in 2 Corinthians 9:12, "This service you perform is not only to supply the needs of God's people, but is also overflowing in many expressions of thanks to God." Student ministries have been set up by students who desire to not only meet the needs of those around them, whether at ENC or in the broader community, but also because we desire to bless others out of gratitude for the blessings we have received from the Father. Through various ministry opportunities this year, students have been given the chance to "[pay] attention to our fellow human beings" (Nouwen), see them, and respond to them as Christ would, in love and compassion.

Open Hand, Open Heart

Reaching out to those in need are members of Open Hand, Open Heart - Terrence Green, Andrew Rankin, Amber Wheeler, Joshua Bureau, Addison Cooper, Kara White, Naomi St.Hilaire, & Judy Turmenne.

The Open Hand, Open Heart ministry is sometimes challenging, but incredibly rewarding. It is our goal to show God's love in a practical manner by seeking out the homeless and offering them food, clothing and a listening ear. We believe that the Bible's directive to Christians to feed and clothe the poor should be taken seriously. We are not merely doing "good deeds," but are attempting to be the hands and feet of God. This year I am thankful for a very supportive and dedicated group of students who have attended consistently throughout the year. God has also blessed the ministry this year with tremendous resources including clothing, money and literature. These donations have come from members, their families, home churches, and the American Bible Society. I would like to express my appreciation to all of these contributors.

Many individuals with mental retardation do not have the opportunity to have friendships outside of their own environment. A Cappella Choir

The A Cappella Choir is a music program that strives for the excellence in music while emphasizing the importance of personal spiritual growth. A typical choir rehearsal includes time for devotions and prayer and a time to seriously learn and perfect the repertoire for each semester. The Choir began their year with their traditional Cape Tour Retreat and toured Maryland and Washington D.C. this fall. They finished their fall semester with their annual Candlelight Christmas concerts. Tours in the spring semester included Maine, Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, and Connecticut. The Choir finished up the year with their final concert at Jordan Hall.

The Chamber Singers have enjoyed an exciting year. Their numerous activities this year began during the fall semester with the Renaissance Madrigal Feasts - a fun filled time that gave them a chance to help out local charities while dressing in traditional Renaissance costumes. In January, they toured overseas and were able to minister through their music to people in the British Isles and Holland. Their final project for the year was recording a new CD of "just for fun" music, which includes some Choir favorites, some Glad songs, and even some Beatles' songs.

Men's Club Volleyball

The Men's Club Volleyball went through a rebuilding season this year. Seniors had to train a new setter and teach other new-comers the rigors of playing in one of the best divisions in the northeast. The team also had a new coach, volleyball alum, Bob Johnston, who did a great job of getting the team in shape after a rough pre-season. The highlight of the season was coming back in a third and final rally-point game down 14-11 and beating Northeastern University in one of the season's divisional matches.

We are looking forward to next year, which also appears to be a rebuilding season as we lose long-time seniors and leaders, Mike Caudill, Ryan Andrews, and Mike Johnston, who might be considered the best volleyball player to ever grace the campus of ENC.

WOMEN'S SOCCE

I was extremely skeptical coming into this "year of 2000" season having only four returners and 11 rookies! It didn't take long for this team to come together. In fact, rather than starting over, we reached and surpassed the previous year's records.

The team, though young, remained strong and positive throughout the season. It is one thing to have a team with skills, but it is such a blessing when that team also possesses strong personal characteristics; this team definitely had both! We also had tons of fun. We are also especially grateful to our coaches who shared in our team's unity, through our successes and failures, and never stopped believing and encouraging us.

This past season was a memorable year for myself. As a senior captain, who has played on the varsity team for four years, I am left with many memories and a lasting impact on my life. This season we had many ups and downs. At times we would find ourselves in a rally fifth game, and losing by only two points. The intensity was high as well as the excitement.

But what stands out most in my mind is the playoff game at Colby-Sawyer. I have never felt so much intensity in one game. More importantly, I have never felt so much team unity.

Heather Patch coaches her team.

Although we lost that game, which would turn out to be the last volleyball game in my career, we walked away with a team who was close in friendship, shared crazy memories, played with every ounce in us, and most importantly, did it ALL FOR THE GLORY OF GOD!

WOMEN'S TENNIS

The Women's Varsity Tennis Team was blessed with five freshmen players this year. The season did not result in an accumulation of wins, but the team played some extremely close (and long) matches. There were a number of very close scores that did not end in our favor. As a whole, the team improved a great deal over the course of the season. We learned a number of new skills to be implemented in doubles matches. This became evident as players began to communicate more on the court and assist one another in plays. The team also learned how to play a more strategic game. Even though a couple seniors will be graduating and leaving the team, next year's team and season look very promising.

Off the court, and even during practice, players were able to have fun and fellowship with one another. Despite some very disappointing losses, the team kept an upbeat spirit and attitude. We made it a point to keep a Christ-like attitude at all times. It isn't exactly easy to let Christ shine through when you aren't winning, but the team gave it their best. One of the main goals for the season was to have fun, and I think the rest of the team would agree that we indeed accomplished our goal.

CROSS COUNTRY

Rob MacDonald, Aaron Wilson, & Heather Hannon train for the season.

"...they will run and not grow weary, they will walk and not be faint. ~Isaiah 40:31

This year's Cross Country Team pulled together and had a wonderfu season. The Lady Crusaders had to find enough runners to make the times count, in doing so Heather Hannon joined the team. Heather sai that through this season she found her love for running. The season ha instilled in her the desire to run marathons.

The team practiced diligently working on their skill and their friend ships. They all pulled together and finished strong.

Thanks for a great season!

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

I will carry with me so many memories from this past season. Our gan at Gordon was a treat. It was what I envisioned college basketball to b I found it such a privilege to be involved. Jody Gardner accomplish many feats during the season, including breaking the women's baske ball career scoring record against Curry on January 25, 2001. The fa were great as they showed their appreciation for Jody and her accor plishment. Jody went on to add to her new record and finish with a to of 1520 points for her career.

The memories of games played and points scored takes a back seat to t relationships that were built. What an honor it is to be at ENC, where v can lift one another up in prayer and give glory to God for what He doing. I will cherish most the times spent sharing our lives with o another.

SOFTBALL

A sign to congratulate the seniors, Linnea Anderson, Michelle Houghton, Jody Gardner, Stacey Braley, & AmySue Eash.

We left Spring Break in Fort Myers, Florida with a record of two and two, and came back to Quincy to win our first two games of conference play. Our last win against Curry will be a great memory for graduating seniors. It was great to come from behind and win that game and end the season on a good note. We even had some sluggers, Carissa Hatcher, Katie Reich, and Linnea Anderson all hit homeruns. In that same game, Jody Gardner also broke the ENC record for career hits. We shared some great memories through the season. Heather Hannon and Erin Leppanen were scrabble champs. Kerry Puleo knew what fish felt like when Katie's barrette got stuck in her nose. The Lady Crusaders softball season was disappointing when it came to numbers, but was made up for in spirit and togetherness.

Dear Faithe,

How excited we are to see you at this milestone - receiving your college degree so you can teach school. As a child your favorite pastime was to play school with your dolls. Each year your dolls were treated to a new teaching style as you mimicked your current teachers.

Now, with your own philosophy and style of teaching, we anticipate you entering the field of education and making a difference in the lives of children.

We are confident, with God's help, the joy you have brought to our home, you will take to your classroom.

This year has been quite the experience. Having never even worked on a yearbook before, I set out with my staff to create ENC's Centennial yearbook. Now, after many hours of typing and clicking, and much help from my staff, friends and God, the yearbook is finally finished.

A big thank you to everyone who helped put this book together, I couldn't have done it without you! Thanks to everyone who submitted pictures for the yearbook. Thank you to all of those people who came and visited me in the office during my late nights and kept me company. Heather Beckley and Ryan Scott, thank you for spending the middle of the night in the office writing captions at the last minute when I just couldn't be creative anymore. Sue Ramey, thank you for answering my questions and helping me put this yearbook together. James Heyward, thank you so much for stepping in and solving problems and answering questions. Miranda Metcalfe, thank you so much for the work you did organizing the yearbooks, it was a huge help. Stephanie Leventry, thank you so much for doing such a great job researching and collecting the archival materials that we needed. Jenny Francois, thanks for putting pages of the Student Life section together. Shaundelle Mitchell, thanks for the work you did on the Clubs & Organizations section. Chrissy Tsepas, thanks so much for being both a great photographer and for doing such a great job on the Sports section. Joanna Constantine and Melissa Kenrick, thanks for always being there to take pictures. Raenelle Parker, thanks for doing such a great job organizing the photographs, they really are what makes the book. Erin Culbertson, thank you for keeping track of every financial matter concerning the yearbook. Amanda Mohling, thank you so much for being such a great friend and for being a shoulder I could lean on. Tara Brooke Watkins, thank you for your contributions and for being such a great support, friend and confidant. I couldn't have done it without you. Lastly, Jeremy D. Scott, saying thank you doesn't even come close to thanking you for all the work you did and all the support you gave. You've been a great friend and Assistant Editor. There's no way I could have done it without you.

As our years at ENC come and go, remember not to become distracted as you head out into the world. Remember that God has a perfect plan for your life and that He will fulfill every promise He has given you. Don't worry about where tomorrow will bring you or what course your life will take. Just remember to trust in God and His promises because He is faithful and He will do just like He promised.

In Him,

Cara L. Paulson
